MAIN STREET

By Stanley Bavier

ONE KINDLY DEED
By Edgar A. Guest

He went his way and never knew
How much his words has thrilled him through,
He'd merely stopped upon the street
To buy a newsboy's printed sheet
And something put it in his mind
That day to be a little kind.

"My boy, 'tis cold you look," said he.
"Your ears are red as they can be.
Just step in here, you bright-eyed chap,
I'll buy for you a winter cap,
And since all day you tread the street
I'll put new rubbers on your feet."

He never knew just why the whim
For such a kindness came to him,
But he was happy for the day
And whistling went upon his way;
Took train for home and never guessed
What seed he'd planted in a breast.

Day after day, year after year,
Watched one for him to re-appear.
The boy to manhood grown still scanned
The faces of the public, and
Cherished the hope that ere life's end
He'd meet once more his kindly friend.

They never met. But in his name
That boy when he a man became
On many a blustry, winter day
Gave caps and overshoes away
In memory of the passing whim
Of one who'd been so kind to him.

• • •

Kindliness! I like that word. It means something. It conjures up visions of real life; experiences; memories, and things worthwhile.

• • •

Did you ever stop to think of what kind of a world we would have if every one did just one kindly deed each day? It doesn't sound like very much, but—what startling results we would obtain. Did you ever stop and think of the bitterness there is in this world; the strife; the unhappiness and wretchedness because of the lack of kindliness?

• • •

Take the average individual who has failed to make good; who has given up the fight; who has thrown his or her high standards to the four winds and have sunk down to low levels, and make minute inquiries into the cause of it all, and what will you find? Merely this, that the individual's milk of human desire has turned sour for lack of recognition, consideration and—kindliness.

• • •

Few of us realize the power of kindliness and the power it has. The memory of a kindly deed lingers on thru a period of years.

• • •

You and I and everyone else along the Main Streets of the world have had our experiences. Those individuals who have extended kindliness to you, in your hour of discouragement or sorrow, stand out with indelible clearness thru the intervening years. In the secret chambers of your heart you erect a little white stone in memory to those who gave you kindliness in your hour of need.

• • •

What a common experience for us all to receive an inspiring letter from some friend at a time when we are desperately in need of fresh stimulus. How little the sender of the letter realized at the time just how much you needed encouragement to enable you to carry on and do your best. Many and many an individual has been saved from deserting the paths and highways of high standards by the receipt of an inspiring letter.

• • •

I know of nothing in this world today which pays such high interest; which creates as much real happiness, as sowing the seeds of kindliness along the Roads of Life. The effects are so far reaching that one never knows just what the results may eventually lead to. I know of an old colored lady down South who gets a pension from an old sea captain who she once showed kindliness to when he was a young, indiscreet first-mate and used liquor to the excess. She found this chap laying in a city park,

DICK JOSEPH'S CHILDREN BACK IN TRUCKEE

Yvonne and Azad Joseph, eight year old twin daughters of Dick Joseph, who were kidnaped by Joe Mandell on March 21st, have been brought back from Los Angeles by their father. The children arrived yesterday, and are back in the home of their aunt, Mrs. Mandell.

The children were held in the Juvenile Hall in Los Angeles since the night of March 22nd, when they were taken into custody by the Los Angeles police, after Mandell attempted to commit suicide in front of the Hollywood High School.

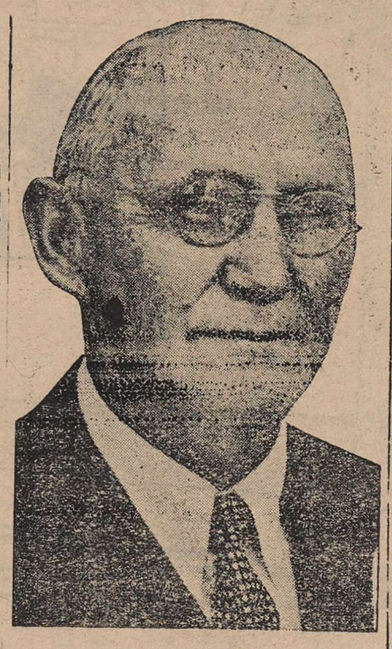

According to the latest reports from the doctor, Mrs. Mandell is recovering from her wounds, and has passed out of danger.

SMITH UP FOR RE-ELECTION ON UTILITY BOARD

Has Been A Member Since Utility Was Organized. Annual Meeting And Election To Be Held May 2nd

C. E. Smith, incumbent, president of the board of directors of the Truckee Public Utility District has advised a representative of the Truckee Republican, that he will be a candidate for re-election to the board at the annual meeting to be held on May 2nd.

"I've been a member of the utility board since the organization of the Truckee Public Utility," said Mr. Smith, "and I would like to continue on with the work which we have started, and see it thru."

It has been rumored around town for quite some time that several other local citizens intended to run as a candidate for director, but thus far, no one has notified either the clerk of the board, or this newspaper of their intentions.

In order to run as a candidate, a local citizen is obliged to circulate a petition and secure a certain amount of signers, and place the petition on file with the clerk of the board so many days before the annual election, in order to comply with the law. Mr. Smith is the only director of the Public Utility whose term expires this year.

Other incumbent directors are Charles White, president of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce and local manager of the Bank of America, and Tim O'Hanrahan, manager-owner, the Sierra Tavern.

LOCAL ARTIST PAINTS REALISTIC COWBOY PICTURE

William Tracy, who has been living in a cabin at Donner Lake for the past winter, in an effort to regain his health, has turned out another oil painting which has been attracting considerable attention. The painting is that of a cowboy sitting on his horse, out on the range, lighting a cigarette. The flame of the match casts a startling, realistic glow upon the face of the man. In the background can be seen the shadows of the steers, and the outline of a range of mountains.

Tracy's work shows marked realism, and warmth of color and shading. He has caught the spirit of the plains and the high sense of enjoyment which the cowboy feels towards his work, and has given it all a very fine interpretation.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this means of expressing my thanks to all the people of this community for the kindness which they have shown to my sister, Mrs. Joseph Mandell and myself during our recent trouble.

The many expressions of friendship and kindness have been appreciated more than I can say.

TRUCKEE SKI CLUB TO SHOW SKI PICTURE 'DOOMED BATTALION'

Frank Gaiennie, president of the Truckee Ski Club, has announced that the club will show a special moving picture on Tuesday evening, April 18th, entitled, "THE DOOMED BATTALION."

This picture—a Universal—is a breath taking one photographed in the Austrian Tyrol, and shows terrific suspense when an Austrian soldier has to decide between love and duty. The pictures of the Italian army on skiis will be particularly interesting to the people of this region.

Be sure to reserve this date, and take in this picture, shown under the sponsorship of the Truckee Ski Club.

MANDELL STILL IN LOS ANGELES GENERAL HOSPITAL

Joe Mandell, Truckee barber, who is claimed by the police to have attempted to murder his wife on March 21st and left town suddenly with the twin daughters of Dick Joseph, is still in the Los Angeles General Hospital and it is not known when he will be able to be brought back to Truckee for trial for the crime.

Latest reports from Los Angeles police stated that the doctors at the L. A. hospital advise that Mandell may have a fracture of the skull, and that it is not known when he will be discharged from that institution.

Sheriff George Carter has been advised to wait further instructions from the L. A. Police.

PICTURE MADE AT OLD SPOT

Desert scenes, including a spectacular attack of Indians on a railway construction camp for Zane Grey's "The Golden West," George O'Brien's latest Fox picture, were filmed on the line of the Southern Pacific Railway between Barstow and Johanesburg in California.

While on location the company lived on the ten Pullman cars that took it to the desert country. They remained for almost a week, and on two nights Director David Howard staged a "wild west" show for the hundreds of natives who were attracted to the location.

Supporting O'Brien are Janet Chandler, Marion Burns, Bert Hanlon, Arthur Pierson, Edmund Breese, Emmett Corrigan, Onslow Stevens and Frank Hagney.

"The Golden West" will be seen at the Donner Theatre on next Sunday night.

School Election Tomorrow Will Be A Spirited Race

Voters Should Realize the Importance of Selecting Trustees Who Have Had Experience and Training in Educational Affairs. Best Interests of Our Boys and Girls Must Be Protected.

All signs point to a heavy vote being cast tomorrow at the polls for the election of two new trustees for the Meadow Lake Union High School Board of Trustees, and one new Trustee for the Truckee Grammar School Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Mary Wolert, Lotta Bryant, James McIver Jr. and A. Schmidt are candidates for the Meadow Lake Union High School Board of Trustees, and R. A. Tonini is a candidate for the Truckee Grammar School Board. According to current rumors, there will also be several "write-in" candidates for both the high school and grammar school ballots.

High school trustees are elected at large, but in union districts it is sometimes a "gentlemen's agreement" to select individuals from each elementary district. This rule has been followed in Meadow Lake district successfully for some years.

Mrs. H. S. Eaton, present high school trustee and clerk of the board, whose time expires this Spring, is not a candidate for re-election. A. Schmidt of Floriston, another member of the high school board whose time expires this month, has filed his application for re-election.

Ray Albee, who was appointed last year to fill the unexpired term of A. R. Ghirard, has moved to Nevada, and is not a candidate for re-election to the Grammar school board.

While it is a common belief that being elected a school trustee brings nothing but grief, it is, however, most essential that those who are willing to take over this big responsibility of protecting our boys and girls, be citizens who have had wide training and experience in educational affairs. One would not think of taking a watch to a blacksmith to be repaired, neither can one reasonably expect trustees who have had no training and education themselves to be in a position to lay out the course for the education of others. It therefore behooves every citizen in this region to go to the polls tomorrow and vote for a high type of school trustee for both the high school and grammar school, and if he or she feels that some other than the names of those printed on the ballot should be elected, that one should not hesitate for a single moment to write in the name of a citizen who is able to produce efficient and effective results for the community.

DAY OF DAYS

Last Thursday proved to be a day of days for Truckee, and especially the Truckee Republican. Not since the national election last November has there been so much excitement in town.

The Truckee Republican put out two papers; the regular six page Thursday edition, and a four page extra. All day there was a crowd in front of the Republican office eagerly reading the bulletins from Los Angeles regarding the capture of Joe Mandell and his attempt to commit suicide.

Copies of the extra were in great demand and it was necessary to print extra copies during the day.

The Truckee Republican scooped all other papers on the capture of Mandell. A representative of the paper was in the police teletype station when the flash was reecived from the Los Angeles police stating that Mandell had been rushed to the hospital, with a self-inflicted gun wound.

The Truckee Republican acted as representative for the Associated Press headquarters in San Francisco.

MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE IN LOCAL JAIL

Found Hanging Himself In Cell By Deputy Sheriff Dolley and Judge Ocker Who Called To Release Him

Allan Leventhal, age 23, youthful rubber-check artist and thief, who was arrested last week for stealing $6.00 from the Sierra Tavern, will never come closer to crossing "The Great Divide" and not succeed than he was last Thursday when he was found hanging himself in his cell at the local jail.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolley and Judge C. A. Ocker called at the jail at 11:00 A. M. to release the prisoner, when they saw him hanging in mid-air and gasping for breath.

Ocker and Dolley quickly cut the prisoner down and Ocker rushed for the doctor, while Dolley tried to revive the unconscious man. Before the doctor arrived, Frank Gaiennie, manager of the Sierra Pacific Power Company, arrived at the jail and immediately started using Red Cross First Aid. It was some time before Gaiennie was successful in getting the man to breath. The doctor arrived shortly after and gave medical treatment. The doctor states but for the prompt First Aid treatment rendered by Gaiennie, the prisoner would not have had a chance to survive.

Later in the day, when Leventhal had sufficiently recovered, he was released and provided with transportation to Sacramento, where he was bound when arrested.

Reno police state that Leventhal recently served 25 days in the Reno jail for passing bum checks, and that he has a police record in Chicago, Baltimore, Md., Phoenix Arizona and Long Beach, Calif.

MARYSVILLE — (CPS) — A pet housecat owned by E. Brown here weighs 19 pounds in its stocking feet. It is believed to be one of the largest cats in the state.

FUTURE STATE FISHING LICENSES WILL NOT BE SOLD OUT OF STATE

Word has been received that the California Fish and Game Commission will not, in the future, issue fishing and hunting licenses for sale out of the state.

In the event that anyone hears of any violations to this effect, the California Fish and Game Commission should be notified at once.

REPORT SHOWS ONLY THREE MILLIONAIRES IN THE ENTIRE STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—Either the number of millionaires in California is decreasing, or they aren't paying their income tax.

Only three Californians made tax returns on incomes of $1,000,000 and under $1,500,000 last year, according to the bureau of internal revenue.

The net income tax of these three millionaires was $3,765,823, and they paid a tax of $572,334. During 1929, peak year of prosperity, seven citizens of California were rated between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000.

PUBLIC UTILITY SHOULD ABSORB AND OPERATE TRUCKEE WATER SYSTEMS

The success of the Truckee Public Utility District in the operation of its light and power distributing system the past few years warrants giving careful consideration to its acquiring the water systems of the town.

We believe that both the McGlashan Water Company and the Truckee Water Company, would be glad to consider any consistent plan whereby the water systems could be taken over by the Public Utility and operated for the benefit of the community.

Now would be an ideal time for the Public Utility to take over the water systems. Reproduction costs are at the lowest levels in many years and extensions and betterments can also be made at bottom prices. In addition, employment can be created for a number of men. By consolidating the management of the water systems and electric system in one administration department, many operating economies can be effected.

The purchase of the water systems would be for the good and benefit of the town as a whole, and every citizen should take a personal and active interest in the matter.

We believe that a petition should be put before the directors of the Truckee Public Utility District to investigate the possibilities of acquiring the water systems. And we also believe that some firm—such as Baar & Cunningham, general and consulting engineers of Portland, Oregon, should be asked to send a representative here to look the situation over in a general way. This firm specializes in municipal engineering almost exclusively, and in the past have assisted a number of towns in acquiring water systems, all of which have proven profitable investments for their respective towns.

Let's start some action, and petition the directors of the Public Utility to see what can be done to make such a move for the benefit of every citizen in the community.

TAX RELIEF IMPERATIVE

Like getting the cart before the horse, the state legislature has voted to repeal Amendment No. 1, the present tax system.

The next and most important step is to adopt a substitute system. Otherwise the state would get no revenue from taxes at all.

If the repeal is ratified by the voters, the state will no longer have a dual tax system. That is, no longer will the big public utilities be taxed to support the state government, while real and private property are taxed to support city and county governments.

Much interest has been created in the "Riley-Stewart" plan as a substitute to Amendment No. 1 It would levy on all property alike, and reduce taxes on real estate by 50 per cent.

Should this or some other system be adopted by the legislature, the people shouldn't have to wait until 1934 to vote on it.

Governor Rolph should call a special election at once in order that the people may voice their opinion without delay.

PARTY RESPONSIBILITY

Determined efforts are being made to amend California's primary election law to permit a voter, regardless of the party with which he registers, to call for any party ballot at the polls.

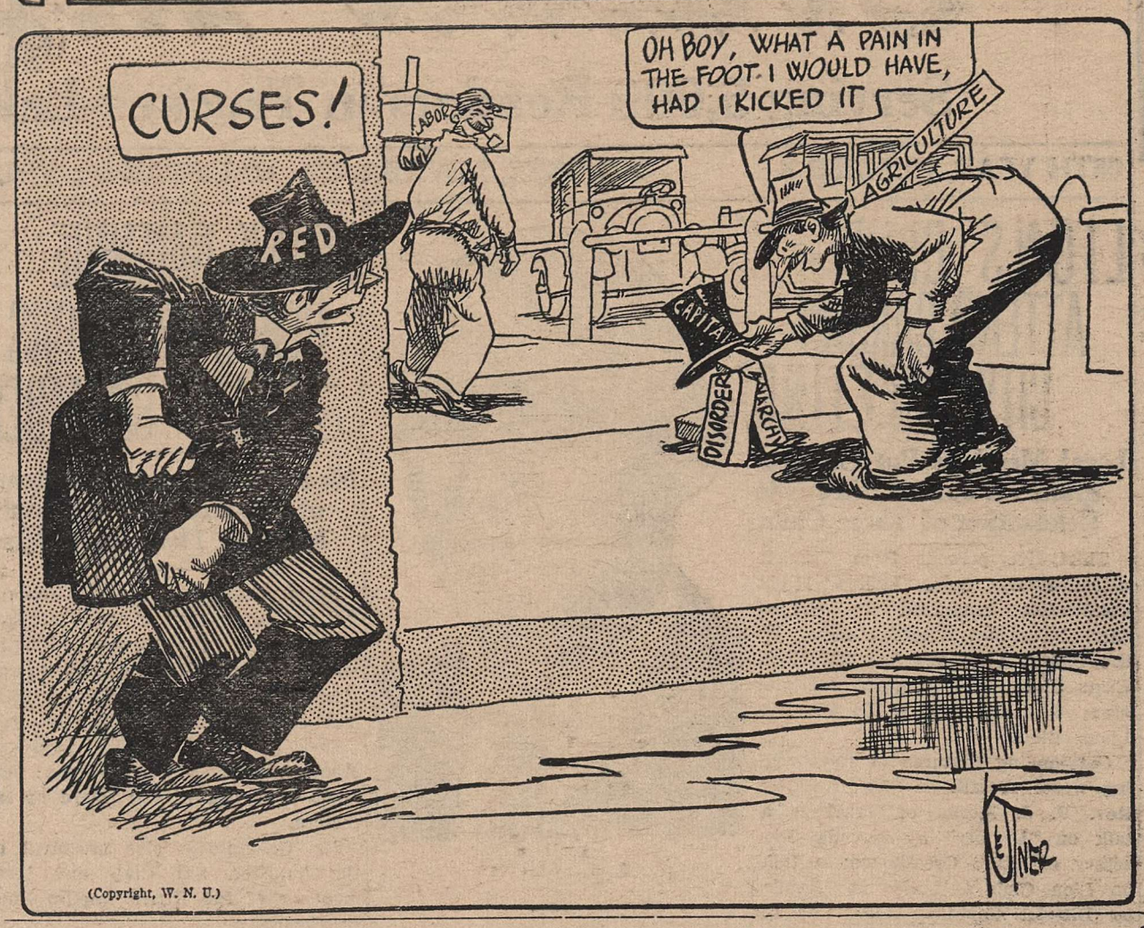

Its sponsors say the measure would save voters the trouble of changing registration 40 days before the primary, if they want to change to another party ticket.

Opponents insist it would break down party responsibility, essential to a democratic form of government.

For years, Republicans have dominated the picture in California, and party lines haven't meant much. Since the recent election, when the state went Democratic in a big way, it has been a different story.

The proposal merits careful discussion by county committees and party leaders. When they have made a decision, it should be transmitted to their representatives at Sacramento.

POLITICAL PARADE

By Homer L. Roberts

(California Press Service Writer)

Special to The Truckee Republican

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—The question of whether Bert B. Meek is going to be a candidate for governor next year has started a lot of tongues wagging in Sacramento.

Homer Roberts

The story is that Former Governor C. C. Young has given up the idea. Inquirers find Meek friendly but non-communicative. They get the impression he is willing to go, but is waiting for word from William Randolph Hearst.

If Meek should decide to run under the Progressive Republican banner, observers here are wondering what Senator William Gibbs McAdoo would do.

Would he support the Democratic ticket in California? Or would he go along with Hearst and Senator Hiram Johnson, and support Meek?

RECALL. Efforts of church and other groups at Brawley to recall State Senator Ben Hulse of Imperial county are regarded as serious here.

Hulse is charged with "humiliating" his constituents because he was arrested at Pasadena enroute to Sacramento charged with driving while drunk and hit and run driving.

Hulse, who took advantage of legislative immunity, delayed trial until June. He denies all the charges and will fight the case to the limit.

INMAN. Although still without confirmation, the report persists that State Senator J. M. Inman, Sacramento, will be lieutenant governor Frank F. Merriam's running mate as candidate for lieutenant governor in the next election.

Inman is regarded by the Rolph forces as the No. 1 Administration Enemy, and he is a tireless campaigner. This was proved at the last primary when he was reelected over Rolph's hand picked candidate, Jay Henry, Sacramento attorney.

FRAUD. The state supreme court will decide whether fraud was used in connection with the lease of the state annex in San Francisco.

The state investigating committee first turned the spotlight upon this lease. The court action is a suit by Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, against Controller Ray L. Riley, seeking to compel Riley to pay rent on the building at $5,068 a month.

Riley refused payment on the ground that the rent is exorbitant, and that the original cost of the building was misrepresented.

COMMISSIONER. As predicted in this column some weeks ago, Governor Rolph will not reappoint E. Forrest Mitchell as state insurance commissioner April 24 when Mitchell's term expires.

Those on the eligible list include Harry A. Sperb, San Francisco; Leslie C. Miller, Michael Sullivan and C. G. Wheatland, Los Angeles; Walker H. Gabbert, Ventura. James E. McCormack, Modesto. T. E. Cochrane, Hanford, and M. O. Robbins, Santa Ana.

SNAPSHOTS. The assembly eyed with suspicion Governor Rolph's plan to create a new state division of emergency relief . . . The bill provided for a paid executive, with a salary of $6,000 a year . . . This Rolph proposed to give to R. C. Branion, Santa Barbara relief administrator . . . In his new job. Branion would handle some $33,000,000 in federal aid money . . . Dr. George Sabichi of Bakersfield, staunch Rolph supporter, will be transferred from Whittier state school to superintendent of Pacific colony . . . He will be succeeded by Judge E. J. Milne, Los Angeles . . . Milne was recommended by Former Governor George H. Dern of Utah, now secretary of war, and Governor Fred Balzar of Nevada.

Folks Worth Knowing

W. F. WILKIE

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we present William F. Wilkie, oldest pioneer business man in Truckee, to our readers.

Mr. Wilkie was born in Dutch Flat, Calif., and received his early education in the school of that town. He later went to Healds Business College in San Franisco for his business training. He came to Truckee in 1884 and was associated with Sission and Crocker, who had the general store here at that time. This business was later sold out to the Truckee Lumber Company and Mr. Wilkie stayed with this concern until 1893 when he started in business for himself. Later he purchased the general store operated by the Truckee Lumber Company and he has operated it under the name of the Truckee Mercantile Company ever since.

Mr. Wilkie has been a member of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce since it was organized, many, many years ago. He is also a former Grammar School trustee.

In fraternal affairs, Mr. Wilkie as been a member of the Truckee Chapter of Masons for forty years, and has passed thru the chairs, and is a Past High Priest.

It is doubtful if there is a man in the entire region better known than Mr. Wilkie. He holds the highest esteem of everyone of his fellow townsmen. A man whom it is a pleasure and a privilege to know. A high type of a business man who has played an important part in laying the foundation stones of his home town.

WONDERS YET TO BE

By Maude de Verse Newton

Upon the rose garden
The warm rain softly falls
As though to winter-pinioned roots
Persuasively it calls.

A sudden bird trilling—
What matter dripping wing?
Within the barren thicket feels
Impelling urge to sing.

Though cheerless skies hover,
There buds the lilac tree:
I, too, shall sing because I must
For wonders yet to be.

The School of Life

Not long ago an old man said: "I've reached the point where I know enough to get along in this world. And what good is it going to do me? My knowledge has come too late to be of much use to me. If I had known as much when I was twenty as I know now, I could nave got somewhere."

Well, that is the way the plan of human life works—by the time we are ready to live, the time has come to die. Since that is the plan, there must be a purpose back of it. A system which has universally been put into effect by an all-intelligent being is unquestionably based on sound judgment. As a certain advertisement says, "There's a reason."

There's a reason why everyone of us is in this world. We did not just happen to get here. We got here, I'm sure, through the working out of a definite plan.

Evidently we didn't come here to have a good time. If we did, we've almost completely failed in our purpose. Evidently we did not come here just to be miserable. Why should anybody go anywhere just to be miserable? Perhaps we, ourselves had nothing to do with coming here. Perhaps we were placed here without being consulted. Plainly this is a sphere of discipline, a plane of education, a place in which to learn things. To learn what? To learn that which this life can teach, and which it does teach, whether we like it or not.

Is this world, then, a great institution of learning? Yes, it seems to be. But more it is like a house of correction.

The older we grow, the more generally speaking, we fall into step with the requirements of this life. The older we become, the more we get into harmony with this existence for the older we become, the more we know about this existence.

And after we learn the lessons of this life, or by the time we have learned them, on we go, And why not? What is that to lament over?

Imagine a boy who has just finished school saying dismally: "Now that I've learned all this school stuff, I have to leave school." Why shouldn't he? Why should he stay there? What sense would there be in keeping a boy in school after he had learned what that school could teach? He would be wasting his time.

And what would be the use in a man's continuing indefinitely in this life after he had learned what this life could teach? He would be wasting his time.

There is a wise Providence which places us in this world to learn and that takes us out of this world after we have learned or have had an opportunity to learn.

If we fail to take advantage of that opportunity, probably we are like the boy who plays hooky or cuts his classes. We are somewhat educationally out of luck.

Capital News Letter

By HOMER L. ROBERTS

(California Press Service Writer)

Special to The Truckee Republican

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—The people of California may get to vote on a new system of axation, after all.

The Riley-Stewart tax plan, greatly amended, is now before the assembly, after passing the senate by a vote of 39 to 0. It adopted in the lower house, it would be voted on at a special election in May or June.

The assembly indicated it is opposed to the present tax system when it voted to repeal Amendment No. 1 adopted in 1911. This provides that taxes for city and county purposes be levied on real and personal property, and for state purposes on public utilities. The latter include railroads, telephones, telegraph. gas and electric companies.

The repeal bill is now before the senate.

BUDGET. This week Governor Rolph is to receive an entirely new state budget for the next biennium. But he will find $25,000,000 lopped off his request for $258,000,000.

The assembly ways and means committee has entirely rewritten the budget. It proposed salary cuts averaging 10 per cent, with a week's vacation with pay.

Half the economies will affect general fund items. The rest will be self-supporting boards and commissions.

INQUIRY. The fate of Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, is now in the hands of Governor Rolph.

Vandegrift was the target of a double-barreled attack during the week. A supreme court referee heard charges that Vandegrift spurned an offer by a San Francisco company to erect an office building for half the rent than was provided in the lease the finance director signed.

At the same time the senate investigating committee, headed by Senator J. M. Inman turned in a report calling the lease "so utterly unfair and indefensible to the people that it ought to be repudiated."

BEER. Whether California has the right to tax beer is to be decided by Attorney General U. S. Webb.

Pending his opinion, the assembly committee on revenue and taxation has withheld action on two measures.

One provides a tax of 31 cents a barrel, and is said to permit the sale of beer at the old-time price of 5 cents a glass.

The other tax is $1.85 a barrel, and would yield a handsome income to the state, its authors insist.

EARTHQUAKE. Disclosures of inferior construction of schoolhouses in the Southern California earthquake zone led the legislature to take a hand.

The assembly adopted an emergency bill authorizing the division of architecture to inspect all plans of school buildings erected in the future.

Because San Francisco requires school buildings to be earthquake-proof, that city was made exempt from the new law.

STATUS. Here's the status of some important bills: Senate now has before it a bill to abolish teacher's tenure . . . $30,000,000 bond

BITTER HARVEST

By Rose Bennington

"Don't slip backward. Instead,"
Cried the man, "Use your head!
Trample over the ones in your way.
With a masterful stride,
Keep abreast of the tide.
Grab your share of all profits each day!"

Avaricious and cruel,
He supplied Satan's fuel.
In his greed he had no time for friends.
At love's passion he'd grin,
And the loves he did win
Were despoiled for his own selfish ends.

Now, we turn the last page.
Creeping up on him, age
Finds him weary, disillusioned, alone.
Not a loved one to care
As his heart is laid bare
To the miserable seed he has sown.

Happiness and good health
Turn their backs on his wealth.
How those cash idols mockingly nod.
Near the end of his days,
He waits humbly, and prays
For a merciful pardon from God.

An error appeared in last week's column which we hasten to correct. The misunderstanding arose because of erroneous information. Few folks are apparently aware of the true facts of the C and D. jumps this year, as two opinions are prevalent here. One is that the C and D State championship jumps were held at Cisco along with the Women's Cross Country Race transferred here from the Big Bear Meet. The other opinion is that the C and D jumps were held at Big Bear and the State Championship title forfeited by Carl Bechdolt because of default.

Well, it has finally been definitely determined that Carl did not lose his title to Karl Kielhofer as stated last week, nor forfeit it either, as the C and D jumps were eliminated entirely this year from the Meet, which leaves Carl still undisputed State Champion.

Another item of interest is that S. P. officials (whom I am not free to quote at this time) declare that the passenger service will be resumed as usual at a later date in the summer, the notice sent out by Mr. Hack having contained a typographical error and intended to pertain only to freight service.

Nick Reardon, caretaker of the C. W. Atherton home here for the last three or four years, was found dead on Thursday evening by his neighbors Carlo Vanni and Henry Intman who investigated when lights failed to show in his house as customary. He lay on a couch and had died presumably of heart failure Born in Ireland, Mr. Reardon, a man in his late 60's, had traveled extensively, settling in Tahoe some years ago. Judge George Bliss took charge of money and papers belonging to the deceased. C. W. Atherton took charge of the arrangements for his burial and he was laid away on Saturday in the cemetery at Tahoe. About fifty people attended the funeral and Mr. Delbo read the last services. Many lovely flowers adorned his casket, and hymns were sung by those present No known relatives were believed to reside in the United States.

The high school youngsters enjoyed a rare treat last week by riding their bikes at full speed on top of the snow, which, of course, was frozen solid, making their ride a bit unusual.

Swanson on the morning of the 18th. caught looting the V. S. McClatchey home. Constable Bechdolt suspects there may be a cache here somewhere, but nothing has been found to support this theory so far. The men will be brought here Thursday for a preliminary hearing before Judge George Bliss.

On Wednesday Mrs. Chas. Swanson entertained a few friends at a "literary afternoon." Following luncheon Mrs. A. M. Anderson, Mrs. C. W. Vernon and Mrs. Wm. Crone enjoyed several hours of poetry each reading their own latest creations, which proved a highly different and delightful entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harden returned to Tahoe on Friday after an absence of several months.

Mrs. J. P. Obexer and son Herbert have returned home from Lincoln where they visited at her mother's.

Professor and Mrs. Henry Hinkle were guests of the Chris Neilsens of Sunnyside on Friday.

The Misses Helen Knight and Virginia McCredy and Robert O'Connell of San Francisco are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wagner of Lake Forest for a week.

On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burgess of Brockway Pines gave a party in honor of the Misses Knight and McCredy and Mr. O'Connell, over thirty persons being present. Padell, Mr. and Mrs. Bud English and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burgess and the honorees, the Misses Knight and McCredy and Robert O'Connell.

In pitiful tones some one was crying,

TRUCK OWNERS WAGE BATTLE ON MILEAGE TAX

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(California Press Service Writer)
Special to The Truckee Republican

SACRAMENTO, Cal, Mar. 30—(CPS)—Southern Pacific vs. Truck Owners of California!

That's the lineup of a new battle that bids fair to turn the present session of the state legislature topsy-turvy. To many old timers at Sacramento it brought back memories of the days when Hiram W. Johnson's battle cry was: "Kick the Southern Pacific out of politics."

This time the fight is being waged by the truck owners, who have disregarded the fact that a bill proposing a per-ton mile tax on all trucks is sponsored by the state board of equalization. They have turned their fire against the Southern Pacific, accusing the railroad of being the real author.

Should such a measure be enacted into law, opponents of the bill estimated, truck owners of Nevada county would have to dig down in their pockets for a total of $33.800 in additional taxes this year. This would represent $31,000 a year on each of their vehicles.

The first round of the classic was fought in the senate committee on revenue and taxation. After hours of argument by opponents the committee put off action on the measure for another week.

Aligned against the measures were the butcher, the baker and the ice cream maker, the companies that transport groceries, bread, cakes, butter, cheese, milk, meat, carbonated beverages, gasoline and oil, and draymen.

"It's about time we dropped all camouflage," said Roy B. Thompson, secretary of the Allied Truck Owners. These bills were introduced by the Southern Pacific for one purpose, to put the truck companies out of business.

"This tax would apply to all privately-owned, contract carriers, city draymen, dump trucks—in fact, all trucks except those of the certificated or common carriers."

Russell Bevans, registrar of the department of motor vehicles, staunchly opposed the tax as not only "unfair to the farmer, who must pay whether he uses the highway or not," but also because it would rob the motor vehicle department of $750,000 a year in revenue from the present weight tax on trucks.

Fred E. Stewart, member of the board of equalization, hotly denied that the bill was sponsored by the railroads. He said that it was a genuine effort on the part of the board to require all who use the streets and highways for the operation of heavy freight-carrying eqiupment to pay their fair share of the costs.

'HE WHO LAUGHS LAST, LAUGHS BEST'

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—Sam Wiley felt a cold coming on. When he started to take a quinine capsule a narcotics agent stopped him, handed him $2, took three of his capsules, and then arrested him.

Sam told his story to the judge, who demanded to know what the chemist's report were on the capsules.

"They contained quinine," was the reply.

NO MONUMENT FOR BIG CHIEF SOLANO

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—Big Chief Solano isn't going to get his monument after all.

In 1931, the legislature appropriated $5,000 for a monument to the famous chieftain, to be erected in Solano county. This year, needing money critically, the lawmakers took steps to repeal the act.

Senator Herbert W. Slater, Santa Rosa, put the Indian sign on the senate, and got the repeal bill sent back to committee. But the white settlers, represented by the economy senators, were ired to greater efforts.

Now they have the bill out on the floor again, this time with an urgency clause attached. And from all signs, when the bill comes up for action, a massacre will result.

LOS ANGELES—(CPS)—Because Mona, his pet chimpanzee, was injured in the face and had two teeth knocked out, B. W. Maxwell sued the California Zoological Gardens for $25,000 damages.

I know a woman who was so down-in-the mouth, she had her face lifted.

BANK OF AMERICA BUSINESS REVIEW

According to the Bank of America Business Review just released, the Life Insurance Companies having Home Offices in the far West show admitted assets of $355,216,259 in 1932, an increase of $5,130,432 or 1.5 per cent as compared with 1931. The four largest of these companies, Pacific Mutual, California Western States, Occidental and West Coast, it is said, show an increase in new insurance written on a paid for basis of $8,123,250 in 1932 over 1931, bringing the total of the four companies to $146,400,646.

General business activities declined slightly, the Bank of America Far Western Business Index recording 5.7.

Building activity as reported by the 61 largest cities in eight Western States, totaled $20,597,245 for January and February, forming a 46 per cent increase this year as compared with the corresponding months of 1932.

The dollar value of retail trade in 78 department and similar stores in the Twelfth Federal Reserve Distrit was 24.8 per cent lower in February, 1933, than in February, 1932. Decreased commodity price levels and one day shorter month account for part of this decline.

The Bank Review gives a complete survey of the employment situation. In 1183 reporting plants employing 60 per cent of the industrial wage earners of California, employment increased .8 per cent from January to February. Payrolls increased 2.5 per cent and the average weekly earnings increased 1.7 per cent. In San Francisco the number of employees showed an increase of 5.4 per cent and pay rolls increased 4.2 per cent. In Los Angeles County payrolls and average weekly earnings increased 2.2 per cent.

"Help! Help! Help!" All eight in their car piled out and forgetting Sunday clothes and all dug in frantically, removing bricks, plaster and debris, finally releasing, not as they supposed, some unfortunate woman, but a terrified parrot which had been buried and forgotten in the shuffle. She declares that the news sources have withheld much of the tragedy and greatly minimized the real extent of the damage, which I am sure is sympathetically understood and forgiven by most of us.

There's a ladder of Fortune that reaches up
To the highest and topmost star,
And the top is gained a rung at a time
You can start wherever you are.

Perhaps you may slip, perhaps you may fall,
A tottering rung or so,
But never say die, look up with a smile
As higher and higher you go.

So take the first step, and tho the winds may blow,
Just cling with all your might.
What tho the top you never should reach,
You've climbed! And fought a good fight!

GOVERNOR ROLPH APPOINTS NEW RELIEF DICTATOR

By JACK RICHARDS
(California Press Service Writer)
Special to The Truckee Republican

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—Californias new "relief dictator" is on the job.

He is R. C. Branion of Santa Barbara, who has just been commissioned as a special assistant by Governor Rolph, with the title of "emergency relief administrator."

It will be Branion's job to coordinate all efforts to relieve unemployment, sufferers from the California earthquake, and administer the millions of dollars in federal aid poured into California's coffers by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"I have appointed Mr. Branion to this position," explained the governor, "because I want to be sure that every dollar of this money is spent as the federal government intended it should."

The immediate responsibility of the new official will be the handling of this money, and there is every prospect that nearly $33,000,000 will pass through his hands in the next few months.

This would be distributed as follows:

Federal reconstruction aid to the earthquake area, $5,000,000; state bond issue for unemployment relief to be voted on before July 1, $20,000,000; food relief appropriation for the quake area, $50,000; highway surplus for cleaning away debris $150,000.; R. F. C. allotments to counties for unemployment relief, $7,000,000 and a $10,500 balance left in funds of the state unemployment commission.

Branion is described by the governor as "a regular fellow." He is 42 years old, and has had wide experience in relief work. After studying in the University of California he was graduated from Columbia University in sociology and economics, and did graduate work at Harvard University.

Branion is former director of civilian relief in the Red Cross, Atlantic division, executive secretary and director general of civilian relief of the national Red Cross, and Manager of the Pacific division of the same organization.

For the last two years he has been director of earthquake relief and unemployment at Santa Barbara, financed by Major E. Fleischmann, Dwight Murphy, Harold S. Chase, and E. W. Alexander. This group agreed to lend Branion to California for such time as he is needed. His state salary will be $6,000 a year.

The Golden Text will be: "Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain" (Jeremiah 2:5). Other Bible citations will include: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning" (James 1:17).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Evil is a negation, because it is the absence of truth. It is nothing, because it is the absence of something. It is unreal, because it presupposes the absence of God, the omnipotent and omnipresent" (p. 186).

NEWSPAPER ASSN. FIGHTS TO SAVE PUBLICATION OF TAX LIST

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—County delinquent tax lists are published in newspapers to aid collection of taxes, and the cost of publication is paid by the delinquent taxpayer—not the county.

This was explained by John B. Long, general manager of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, which is opposing a bill that would abolish the publication of the delinquent tax list.

Long explained the newspapers' attitude in a letter to the California Real Estate Association, which endorsed the bill.

"In most counties the first appearance of the delinquent list is the signal for a general rush of taxpayers to the collector's office," said Long. "In many instances the property owners ask specifically that their names be removed from the published lists.

"Abolishing publication would slow up these voluntary payments and increase the burden of the tax collector. The increased cost of collection would more than offset the slight saving under the bill, and the profit by many counties from the 50 cent penalty per description charged each taxpayer."

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—A big dog is proving to be a serious problem in Red Dog.

Red Dog is a revived mining town 14 miles east of here. The dog, a large, hungry St. Bernard, arrived in the town a week ago. Its feet were sore its body gaunt and lean, and its appetite ravenous.

As Red Dog is virtually isolated because of snow and mud, the big animal is virtually eating the town out of house and home.

LAKES AND STREAMS STOCKED WITH TROUT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—Trout by the millions are awaiting this season's anglers in Southern California streams.

Despite the fact that millions of trout were planted in streams last year, the state fish and game commission is now placing a new supply in lakes and streams from the state hatchery at Forest Home.

More than 1,600,000 trout are being distributed in the inland streams of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange and San Diego county. Of this number, approximately 250,000 average from 5 to 7 inches in length.

Larger trout are being planted in streams and lakes accessible by automobile.

Short-Sleeved Underwear Introduced at San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—Short-sleeved underwear of the athletic type instead of the old fashioned kind with long legs and sleeves would improve the health of prisoners at San Quentin.

Such is the recommendation of Dr. L. L. Stanley, prison physician, who says:

"The present cotton underwear has been found by many to be uncomfortable. The men have a tendency to cut off the sleeves and legs. The weather at San Quentin is cool for the most part, but for all purposes the abbreviated underwear would be more serviceable."

SACRAMENTO—(CPS)—The "gin marriage" law, requiring 3 days' notice of intention to wed, would be abolished if the assembly accepts the favorable recommendation by its judiciary committee.

MARYSVILLE—(CPS)—Instead of champagne, a pretty bathing girl appeared on the stage here in a bath tub containing 50 gallons of milk.

LAW WILL PROTECT CALIFORNIA POPPY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—The California poppy, state flower, is now to be protected by law.

An act sponsored by the California Garden Club federation, designed to protect all flowers growing along the highways of the state, is now before the state legislature.

"At present the law protects trees, shrubs and ferns on rights-of-way, and forbids mutilating and collecting for commercial purposes," said Senator Arthur H. Breed, Oakland, author of the bill.

"This amendment doesn't change the present law, except that it extends the same protection to herbs, bulbs and flowers."

Enactment of the measure will protect flowers and bulbs from the onslaught of the commercial collector, Breed said. Eighteen counties have already passed protective ordinances.

Cotton And Spinach Diet Saves Life Of Young Child

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—A diet of spinach cooked with cotton might not sound appetizing, but it saved the life of 13 months old Donald Keyes.

The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Keyes, swallowed an open safety pin. An X-ray disclosed the pin as lodged in the stomach. The extreme danger of operating on a child so young led to the cotton and spinach diet.

The plan worked successfully. The cotton and spinach wound a soft casing around the pin, and it was disposed of without the necessity of an operation.

under a broiling hot sun, intoxicated. The old colored Mammy got a colored boy to help her move the drunken man to her own little cabin, and there she tenderly put him in her own little bed, and nursed him back to health, while she slept on the floor. When asked why she did it she just smiled and said—"Why Goodness! — I just couldn't see a nice white man like that make a fool of himself."

Now in this particular case it was a nice white man, who came from a very fine old New England family, and he appreciated this kindliness on the part of the old colored Mammy. Every since that time—many years ago—she has received a pension from that grateful sea dog who turned out to be one of the most famous sea captains on the Atlantic Coast.

RAIL INNOVATIONS FOR CHICAGO FAIR TRAVEL ANNOUNCED

Planned to meet all travel needs, the lowest and greatest variety of roundtrip railroad fares to Chicago for the World's Fair this summer will become effective May 15th, it was announced here today by Southern Paicfic officials.

The travel bargains for this season include such innovations as roundtrip coach and tourist tickets having return limits of 21 days, and similar short-limit "vacation" tickets for standard Pullman travel with stopover and other privileges. These are at considerably lower rates than the regular summer excursion fares that have a return limit of October 31, which will be available again this season.

In addition to the exceptionally low rates for World's Fair trips to Chicago, it was pointed out that proportionate fares for the various types of travel will be available to cities west of Chicago. Diverse routings will be permitted on all classes of tickets from most cities in western states, it was made known.

The Chicago Association of Commerce has announced an agreement from hotel men and others not to increase prices during the fair. Detailed estimates as to costs for visitors in that city, as well as full information concerning the new travel rates, may be obtained at the local Southern Pacific ticket office.

OVERPRODUCTION OF OIL CAUSES LOW PRICE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—How to stop the present overproduction of oil in California and other oil-producing states will be the main question at the forthcoming oil conference called by Secretary of the Interior Ickes.

"Present oil needs of the nation are approximately 2,000,000 barrels a day," Ickes said in a communication to Governor Rolph. "Present production is estimated from 2,250,000 to 2,500,000 barrels a day. That the industry may prosper it is necessary that a fair price per barrel be paid.

"Overproduction leads to unprofitably low prices in oil as in wheat or any other commodity. The problem is one of regulating production that it will not be in excess of needs, so that the price will not be unprofitably low, and the waste of his natural resource prevented."

There is still time for any young men in the community to make out an application.

Local fishermen expressed themselves as well pleased over the recent ruling of the State Fish and Game Commission that hereafter no California, fishing licenses will be on sale outside of the state. For sometime it has been felt that the California merchants who sell fishing liecnses and fishing tackle were not getting a fair "break," as it was assumed that when a fisherman bought his license out of the state, he also purchased his equipment out of the state.

'NEW DEAL' BORN TO NEVADA CITY COUPLE

NEVADA CITY, Cal.. Mar. 30—(CPS)—Franklin Roosevelt Kistle is the twentieth child of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kistle of Nevada City.

Besides his name, the new baby has other claims of distinction. He is a member of what is probably California's largest family.

At least, it was the largest several years ago, when its 18 members won a prize at the California state fair.

The parents selected the president's name, they said, because it represented a "new deal."

"And if you don't think it is a new deal," said the elder Kistle, "Just figure out the exemptions I get on income taxes at $400 per child."

ONE PELICAN CAN EAT MORE FISH THAN FAMILY OF SIX

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 30—(CPS)—"A wonderful bird is the pelican . . . "runs the old rhyme.

And if you doubt the capacity of his beak, you'll be interested to know that one pelican can eat more fish in a day than would supply a family of six.

The pelican is the world's most efficient fisherman, says the state fish and game commission.

"The birds form a long line of from 30 to 50, like a company of soldiers," the commission said. "They suddenly drop to the water well out from shore. Each bird begans to flap his wings on the surface driving the fish to shore, where the feast begins."
